BOUND FOR ARDMORE.

The National Telephone Line Under Construction From Gainesville.

Major DuBois is pushing the National telephone just as though he had no opposition. In fact he appears totally oblivious of any effort to suppress him. This morning bright and early sixty-five men went to work putting in a line that will connect Gainesville and Ardmore. The work will be done by Saturday night. The line will follow the dirt road to Brown's Ferry, thence to Thackerville, Marietta, Overbrook and Ardmore. These are all stations on the Santa Fe railroad and telephone offices will be established at all of them, thus giving Gainesville a most excellent and valuable service.—Gainesville Register.

A PLACE OF BEAUTY.

The New Jewelry Store of Brown Bros. in Wisnor Hotel. Glit-ed Palace of Beauty.

The reporter today visited the store of Brown Bros. in the Wisnor Hotel. The glitter of flashing diamonds and the grand display of jewelry of every description fairly dazed him. These young gentlemen have only recently come among us but they are here to stay and do business. They are thoroughly equipped with a large stock at prices to suit the times and are also prepared to do all kinds of repairing and engraving. Their stock of diamonds, watches, silverware, clocks etc. was bought at bottom figures and will be sold on the same basis. They are now opened for business and invite the people of Ardmore and surrounding country to visit their store and inspect their goods whether they desire to make any purchases or not. It will pay you to drop in and see them and their magnificent display of beautiful goods.

Not So Bad.

The printer is generally rated to be a pretty bad sort of a fellow, but his conduct generally consists of vice and not crime. The following from one of our exchanges shows that before the law he has not proven so bad as some other people. "Of 3,890 convicts in the state of Texas, there is not a printer or newspaper man, while there are 1,000 lawyers, 1,000 doctors and members of all professions and callings."—B.x

ON WITH THE BOOM.

A Telephone System Being Put In. Will be Ready for Business By Saturday Next.

J. N. DuBois of the National Telephone Company of Gainesville is here superintending the construction of his company's line in the city. It is understood they will be ready for operation by next Saturday. The poles are being distributed and put up today. This is a welcome improvement and is rendered doubly valuable by direct connection with Marietta, Thackerville and Gainesville. The company starts in with a good number of subscribers and the ring of the bell and accompanying hello will soon be heard in almost every house in the city. The ARDMOREITE trusts our people will readily take to and support this metropolitan innovation. Now let the electric light enterprise be pushed forward to a reality and we will be happy. Great is Ardmore. On with the boom.

A BIG HAUL.

Detective Talbott Takes in a Man With Over Half a Million in Bonds in His Grip.

Fort Worth Mail.
Upon advice received from Denver, Col., Detective Tom Talbott arrested at the Union depot last evening a man named Hubbel Smith, alias W. L. Taylor, and lodged him in the city jail to await further instructions. The prisoner came in on the Fort Worth and Denver train and at once bought a ticket for Houston over the Houston and Texas Central road. When arrested he claimed that his name was not Smith, but W. L. Taylor, and that he got on the Denver train at Pueblo.

He was taken to the chief's office, where his baggage was searched and $559,500 worth of mining stock bonds issued by Colorado mines was found. His clothing was also examined, and on some pieces the initials "H. S." appeared. The man then acknowledged that his name was Smith, and sent a telegram to C. W. Frick, 1741 Larimer street, Denver, saying: "Am in trouble and cannot come, unless—"

The bonds in his grip are as follows: Denver and Central City Mining Company, two bonds of 500 shares each; signed Daniel Perry, president, and T. H. Wygant, secretary. San Francisco Consolidated Mining Company, three bonds of 500 shares each; signed G. T. Plant, president, L. M. Kennett, secretary. The Copper Head Mining Company, eleven bonds ranging from 1000 to 25,000 shares each, aggregating 180,000 shares. The North Fork Hydraulic Gravel Mining Company, of Denver, twenty-seven bonds ranging from 1000 to 50,000 shares each, aggregating 407,000; to a part of these are signed the names of Albert K. Sage, secretary, and Charles H. Sage, president; to the others E. G. Reinert, vice-president and Hubbel S. Smith, secretary.
